

The Patriot-News
Classified
:60 seconds

Woman: (tripping, sound of something falling... aggravated) Ouuu... How long are you going to keep those golf clubs there? When is the last time you went golfing anyway?

Man: I know, I'm running out of room... I keep meaning to put an ad in The Patriot, but I get caught up at work and forget to call.

Woman: Well, why don't you do it now that you're thinking about it?

Man: It's 10 o'clock at night for one thing.

Woman: You know, you can place a Patriot-News Classified on Pennlive.com any time of the day.

Man: I can?

Women: (Not snotty, just joking around with him) Yeah, and while you're at, why don't you look for a bigger apartment.

Announcer: If you have an Internet connection, you can place a Classified. No matter where you are or what you're doing, place and pay for your ad online. It doesn't matter if you're on your lunch break, up at 2 a.m., or just getting home from a date. Log on to pennlive.com/patriotads to write, place and pay for your ad. The Patriot-News. Now you Know.

Women: I see you sold your clubs.

Man: Uh-huh, now, if I could just get you to get rid of the bowling ball you haven't used since you were 12...

Women: Ha! No way!

The Patriot-News
Classified
:30 seconds

Announcer: Is your house full of stuff you don't need anymore... things that you keep meaning to sell, but keep forgetting to put in the paper? What are you waiting for? You can place a Patriot-News Classified ad 24 hours a day, 7 days a week! If you have a connection, you have a Classified! Log on to pennlive.com/patriotads to write, place and pay for your Classified. The Patriot-News. Now you Know.

Note: pennlive.com/patriotads = pennlive dot com backslash patriotads